

HAGYARD

Equine Medical Institute

Laser Therapy

Laser therapy is used to promote cellular regeneration and helps accelerate several of the body's natural healing mechanisms. Laser therapy can be used to reduce inflammation, decrease pain, promote new blood vessels and tissue growth and aid in the healing and closure of wounds. It can be used for soft tissue injuries of the distal limbs, open wounds, surgical wounds, ligament or tendon injuries, back pain, and muscle pain.

